Is T1 Targeted?

The same great experiment by Schwartz et al. (1990) is repeated. However, instead of 120 subjects, 120 subjects are divided into two groups: one group is given a T1 target and the other group is given a T2 target. The results are as follows:

Target	Mean RT (ms)	SD (ms)
T1	1000	100
T2	1100	100

As you can see, the T1 group is faster than the T2 group. This is because the T1 group is given a target that is closer to the starting point than the T2 group. This is a classic example of the T1 effect.

All's not lost yet for Senate—Panganiban

Senate President Juan Ponce Enrile said that the Senate is not yet lost, despite the recent developments in the impeachment process against President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo. Enrile, who is also a member of the Senate, expressed his confidence in the Senate's ability to handle the situation and maintain its integrity. He stated that the Senate is a body of independent members who are not easily swayed by external pressures. Enrile also mentioned that the Senate is currently in a state of "strategic silence," waiting for the next steps in the impeachment process. He emphasized that the Senate's primary duty is to uphold the constitution and ensure the rule of law. Enrile's comments came in response to reports that some members of the Senate might be considering a vote of no confidence in the President. He clarified that such a move would be premature and could undermine the Senate's role in the impeachment process. Enrile also mentioned that he is in good communication with other Senate members and that they are all working towards a resolution of the current crisis. He concluded by stating that the Senate remains a vital institution in the Philippines and that it will continue to serve the people faithfully.

Senate warns RP on road to 'autocracy'

Senate President Juan Ponce Enrile issued a stern warning to President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo, stating that the current administration is heading towards 'autocracy' if it continues to ignore the rule of law. Enrile, who is also a member of the Senate, expressed his deep concern over the President's actions and the potential impact on the country's democracy. He stated that the President's recent moves, particularly in relation to the impeachment process, have raised serious doubts about her commitment to the constitution. Enrile warned that if the President continues to act unilaterally and without regard for the law, she will be undermining the very foundations of the Philippine government. He emphasized that the Senate is not just a legislative body but also a guardian of the constitution, and it has a duty to speak out against any actions that threaten the rule of law. Enrile also mentioned that he is in good communication with other Senate members and that they are all working towards a resolution of the current crisis. He concluded by stating that the Senate remains a vital institution in the Philippines and that it will continue to serve the people faithfully.

Flag fever

When the going gets tough, we turn to the flag. And when the flag gets tough, we turn to the flag. And when the flag gets tough, we turn to the flag.

The flag is a symbol of our nation's identity. It is a symbol of our values, our beliefs, and our hopes for the future.

It is a symbol of our unity, our strength, and our resilience. It is a symbol of our pride, our honor, and our glory.

It is a symbol of our love, our compassion, and our kindness. It is a symbol of our faith, our hope, and our dreams.

It is a symbol of our courage, our bravery, and our sacrifice. It is a symbol of our freedom, our justice, and our equality.

It is a symbol of our peace, our harmony, and our brotherhood. It is a symbol of our love, our compassion, and our kindness.

It is a symbol of our faith, our hope, and our dreams. It is a symbol of our courage, our bravery, and our sacrifice.

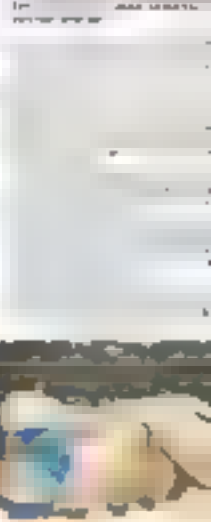

It is a symbol of our freedom, our justice, and our equality. It is a symbol of our peace, our harmony, and our brotherhood.

the 1990s, the number of people in the United States who are obese has increased by 50 percent, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Obesity is a leading cause of heart disease, diabetes, and other chronic conditions. It is also a major risk factor for many other health problems. The World Health Organization estimates that obesity is responsible for about 2.8 million deaths each year. In the United States, the prevalence of obesity has increased from 15 percent in 1980 to 35 percent in 2000. This increase is due to a combination of factors, including changes in diet and lifestyle, and a decline in physical activity. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommend that adults aim for at least 150 minutes of moderate-intensity physical activity each week, and that they consume a diet that is low in saturated fat and cholesterol, and high in fruits, vegetables, and whole grains. These recommendations are based on the best available evidence, and they are designed to help people reduce their risk of chronic disease and improve their overall health.
